Accelerating Growth: Appian Asset Acquisition

Transformative acquisition of significant silver stream & polymetallic royalty from Appian in September

→ Acquisition of 2 high-quality, long-lived, cash-flowing assets

- Silver stream on Rosh Pinah Zinc → underground mine in Namibia in operation for over 55 years
- NSR royalty on Santa Rita → long-life operating nickel sulphide mine in Brazil

→ Upfront consideration of $125 million

- Additional $45 million of contingent payments based on certain milestones
- Fully financed through increased debt facilities with BMO and National Bank

→ Significantly increases & diversifies GEOS

- Expected to add over $16 million in revenue in 2026 at analyst consensus metal prices¹
- Major near-term growth catalysts at both mines to further bolster growth profile

Forward Looking Statements

This presentation contains “forward-looking statements” and “forward-looking information” (collectively, “forward-looking information”) within the meaning of applicable Canadian securities legislation. All information contained in this presentation, other than statements of current and historical fact, is forward-looking information. Often, but not always, forward-looking information can be identified by the use of words such as “plans”, “expects”, “budget”, “guidance”, “scheduled”, “estimates”, “forecasts”, “strategy”, “target”, “intends”, “objective”, “goal”, “understands”, “anticipates” and “believes” (and variations of these or similar words) and statements that certain actions, events or results “may”, “could”, “would”, “should”, “might” “occur” or “be achieved” or “will be taken” (and variations of these or similar expressions). Forward-looking information is also identifiable in statements of currently occurring matters which may continue in the future, such as, “is currently”, “allows/allowing for”, “will advance” or “continues to” or other statements that may be stated in the present tense with future implications. All of the forward-looking information in this presentation is qualified by this cautionary note. Forward-looking information is based on, among other things, opinions, assumptions, estimates and analyses that, while considered reasonable by Versamet Royalties Corporation (“Versamet” or the “Company”) at the date the forward-looking information is provided, inherently are subject to significant risks, uncertainties, contingencies and other factors that may cause actual results and events to be materially different from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. Forward-looking statements in this presentation include statements relating to: ongoing support from and alignment with large shareholders and partners; ability to build a metals royalty company that creates value for all stakeholders, supports industrial growth, and promotes responsible mining; ability to grow the business at pace; growth and projected revenue from the Company’s portfolio; anticipated developments in the operations of the Company; expectations regarding the growth of the Company; expectations regarding future commodity prices; the business prospects and opportunities of the Company; estimates of mineral resources and reserves; the future demand for and prices of commodities; the future size and growth of metals markets; expectations regarding costs of production and capital and operating expenditures; estimates of the mine life of mineral projects; expectations regarding the costs and timing of exploration, development, construction, and production; and the success of exploration, development, construction, and production; gold delivery expectations; the timing and possible outcome of regulatory and permitting matters; goals; strategies; visions; planned future acquisitions; the adequacy of financial resources; and other events or conditions that may occur in the future or future plans, projects, objectives, estimates and forecasts, and the timing related thereto.

Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties, contingencies and other factors that may cause actual results and events to be materially different from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information. The risks, uncertainties, contingencies and other factors that may cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by the forward-looking information may include, but are not limited to: the impact of general business and economic conditions; the absence of control over mining operations from which Versamet will purchase gold, other commodities or receive royalties from, and risks related to those mining operations, including risks related to international operations, government and environmental regulation; actual results of current exploration activities; conclusions of economic evaluations and changes in project parameters as plans continue to be refined; risks in the marketability of minerals; fluctuations in the price of gold and other commodities, fluctuation in foreign exchange rates and interest rates; volatile financial markets risks that may affect Versamet’s ability to obtain additional financing on acceptable terms; the completion of a public listing; required approvals or clearances from government authorities on a timely basis, and risks related to the business and strategic plans of Versamet. Should one or more risk, uncertainty, contingency or other factor materialize or should any factor or assumption prove incorrect, actual results could vary materially from those expressed or implied in the forward-looking information. Accordingly, the reader should not place undue reliance on forward-looking information. Versamet does not assume any obligation to update or revise any forward-looking information after the date of this presentation or to explain any material difference between subsequent actual events and any forward-looking information, except as required by applicable law.

This presentation also contains or references certain market, industry and peer group data that is based upon information from independent industry publications, market research, analyst reports and surveys and other publicly available sources.
